Bird Words

Hello Birdie Friends,

Summer is well underway, and it is HOT HOT HOT! I hope everyone is staying cool and enjoying the season so far.

Summer is a great time to introduce some new seasonal fruits and vegetables to your birds. Zucchini, bell peppers, green beans, berries and melon are great items to add to your chop recipes. A farmers' market can be a great place to shop for seasonal produce if you want to support your local growers.

Last month, Birds of a Feather Parrot Rescue of NM held their very first charity golf tournament at the Sierra del Rio Golf Course in Elephant Butte, NM. It was a successful event full of laughter and fun. We're looking forward to the next one!

On July 27th, we will be participating at the Pueblo of Isleta Environmental Fair. This is a great, informative event for all ages, and we look forward to attending again this year. Come by to learn more about the club and meet a few of our members and their birds!

Our next meeting will be an ice cream social, held at Inez Park in ABQ on August 18th. Details can be found in the newsletter. Stop by to say hello, meet club members and birds and learn more about the High Desert Bird Club. Our group is growing, and it is wonderful to meet up with folks who share a love for birds. You don't have to own a bird to attend. Come by and see what we're about!

We hope to see you at our upcoming events and as always, we welcome ideas for future meeting topics. Be safe and enjoy your Summer!

AFA 50th Conference

This year marks the golden anniversary of the American Federation of Aviculture (AFA).

The AFA is a nonprofit national organization established in 1974, whose purpose is to represent all aspects of aviculture and to educate the public about keeping and breeding birds in captivity.

Membership consisting of bird breeders, pet bird owners, avian veterinarians, pet/bird store owners, bird product manufacturers, and other people interested in the future of aviculture.

AFA History

During an outbreak of Exotic Newcastle Disease in California, in the early 1970's, thousands of perfectly healthy exotic birds in private collections were euthanized by the USDA if even one bird in the collection was suspected of being exposed to the disease.

As a result of the outbreak, the State of California proposed legislation that would narrowly restrict or ban the ownership of exotic birds.

This proposed legislation to restrict private ownership was the catalyst that brought many Southern California bird owners and clubs together to form the AMERICAN FEDERATION OF AVICULTURE, INC. in March of 1974 to serve as an avicultural umbrella organization.

The AFA is dedicated to the promotion of aviculture and the conservation of Avian Wildlife through the encouragement of captive breeding programs, scientific research and the education of the general public. To promote the interests of aviculture, the AFA works to educate legislators within the U.S.A. The AFA also represents the avicultural community at CITES meetings.

Mission and Purpose

The mission and purpose of AFA shall be to promote the advancement of Aviculture through educational programs that support the advancement and improvement of breeding practices, husbandry practices, and living conditions for exotic birds, conservation, research and legislative awareness.

The goal of AFA is to insure long-term, self-sustaining populations of exotic birds both in captivity and in the wild.
